| 91 Biden is from a middle class town, with working class parents and went to a state university. He cares about what happens to working class communities and farms. He believes in hard work and that personal responsibility should be rewarded. He wants to build back American jobs for the middle class families like he came from, not the wealthy investor class. They don't need help, but working families do. Trump is a billionaire, inherited his money, went to an Ivy League university, and lived on Fifth Avenue. He shows little sympathy for the struggling working class and mainly worked to enrich his friends. He blames others instead of taking personal responsibility. Those aren't the values that will get America back. | 40 | 11 | 11 | 21 | 17 | - | 51 | 62 | 38 |

| 93 Republican voter from Arizona: I've been a Republican since Richard Nixon. I was heavily invested in what I thought was the philosophy of the party, which was fiscal restraint, strong defense, rule of law, family values, and more reliance on individual efforts. But Donald Trump doesn't display these values. I've never seen a man in public view act so dishonest, immoral, and undisciplined. He called our FBI scum and insulted decorated combat war heroes.
