Methodology

On behalf of the American Federation of Teachers, Democracy Corps on October 23, 2020, conducted online dial meter research during the final presidential debate between Donald Trump and Joe Biden, among 210 registered voters nationally.

Key line groups include:

- African Americans
- Latinos
- White millennials
- White unmarried women
- White working-class women
- White college women
- White working-class men

To ensure each line was as representative as possible, these lines were individually recruited. Surveys were administered before and after the live dial meter session.

This research is qualitative, and results are not statistically projectable onto a larger population.

Key Findings:

- The commentariat has totally missed how much the final debate has damaged President Trump and further pushed the race's dynamic to favor Vice President Joe Biden.
- The debates take place in a country where Trump's approval and vote is stuck at 42 percent when the rest of the country decides whether they can vote for Biden. Our research showed Biden would gain from the 1st debate because of increased favorability and more saying, "he represents the middle class." It was no surprise there was a much bigger audience for Biden town hall because the undecided are focused on him.
- Trump got heard in this debate, but that was a disaster for him. Biden gained in favorability and seeing him as someone representing middle class values battling for forgotten Americans and working Americans. For each, the intense, "describes very well," increased by 10 points after the debate.

Key Findings:

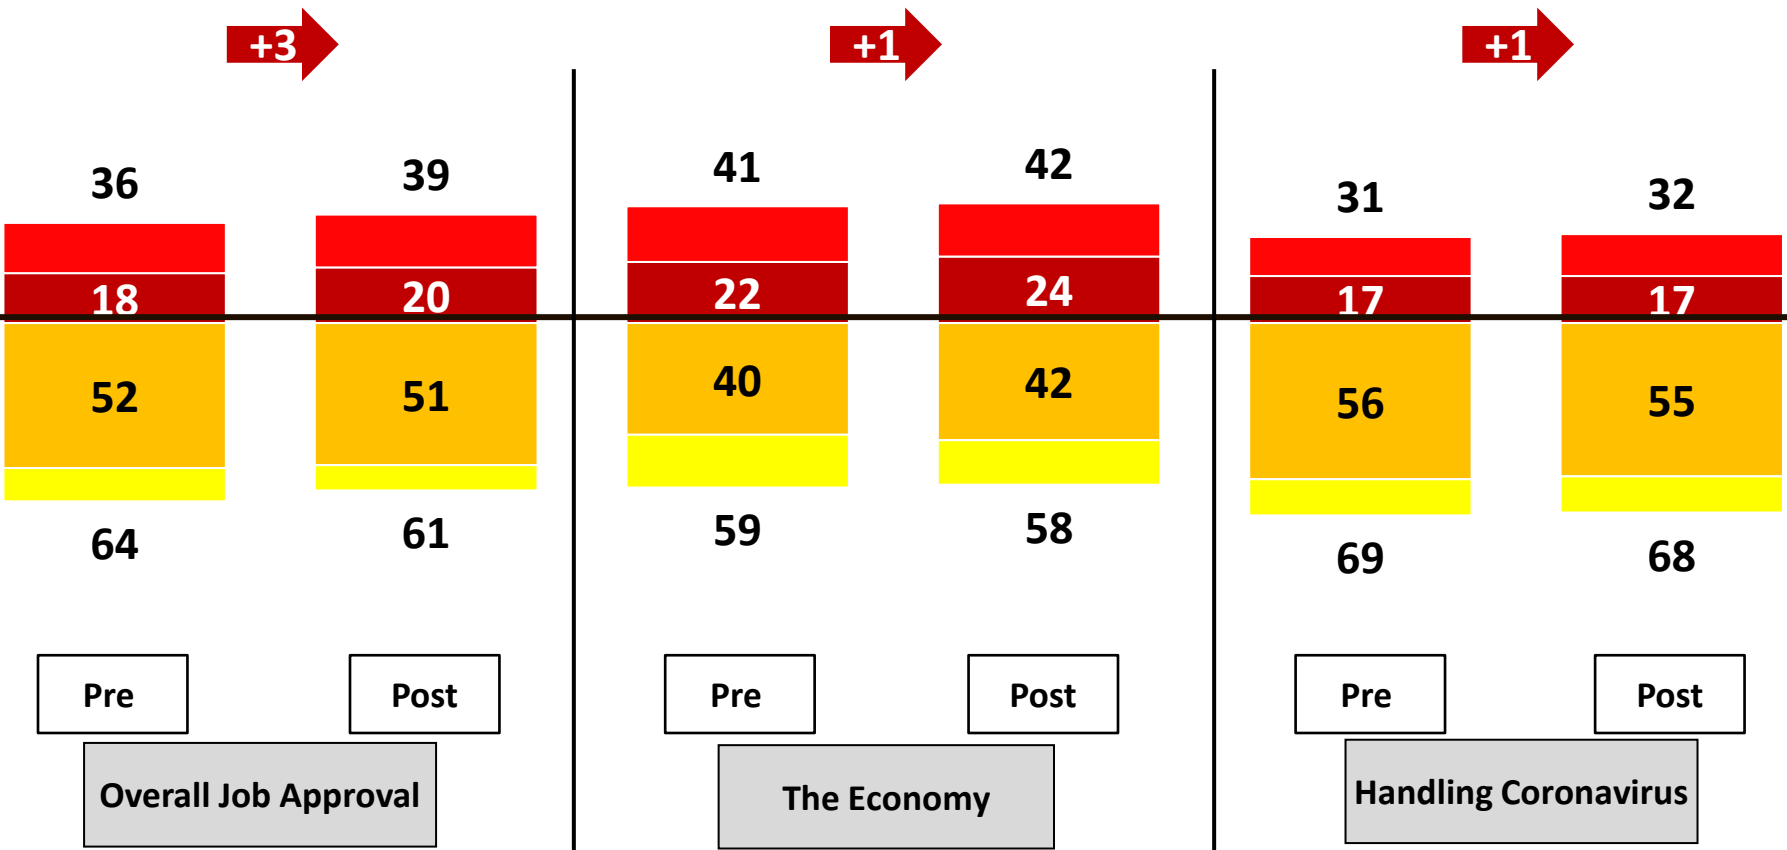

- That gain for Biden himself really affected the choice in the election. Biden increased his margin by 8 points on which candidate would improve things for the middle class, 5 points on uniting the country and 5 points, most importantly, on getting health care costs down.
- If you thought Trump did okay and Biden simply made no mistakes, then you do not know America. You need to watch how they reacted to the exchanges on “your family,” Trump minimizing the damage from COVID, Trump describing the public option as socialism and defense of Social Security, Biden calling Trump a racist and Trump claiming he’s the best president for Black Americans since Lincoln, Trump attacking Fauci, Biden talking about DACA and separating children, the cities being a disaster, Biden describing the need for minimum wage and central workers and Biden warning Iran and Russia.
- Many commentators described the 1st debate as a “shitshow,” but it was the 2nd and final that was a shitshow for Trump.

Biden gains in big middle class-class argument on who for forgotten Americans, particularly with white working-class women

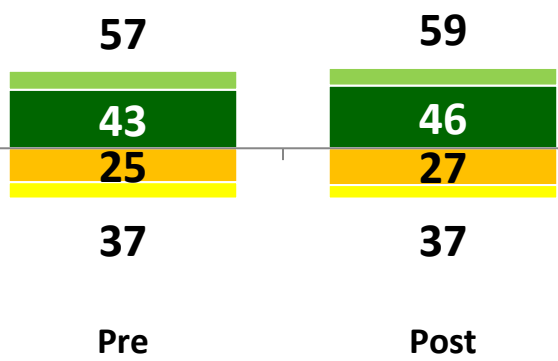

Which one of the following statements comes closer to your point of view, even if neither is exactly right?

Biden is from a middle-class town, with working class parents and went to a state university. He cares about what happens to working class communities and farms. He believes in hard work and that personal responsibility should be rewarded. He wants to build back American jobs for the middle-class families like he came from, not the wealthy investor class. Trump is a billionaire, inherited his money, went to an Ivy League university, and lived on Fifth Avenue. He shows little sympathy for the struggling working class and mainly worked to enrich his friends.

Trump governed for the forgotten Americans, renegotiated trade agreements to avoid outsourcing, and promoted manufacturing in America. Trump built a great economy, and amidst a global pandemic, he's doing it again with months of record job growth and devastated industries adding back hundreds of thousands of jobs. Biden spent years letting our jobs be outsourced and governing only for the elites, and he is too weak to stand up radical left in his party.

Welker simply asking Biden for post-court ACA plan gets huge spike (A). Biden lays out a clear health care plan for the first time – with huge response at every turn (B/C/D).

- [A] (WELKER) Okay. Vice President Biden, yes, this is for you. Your healthcare plan calls for building on Obamacare. So my question is, what is your plan if the law is ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court? You have two minutes uninterrupted.
- [B] (BIDEN) What I'm going to do is pass Obamacare with a public option - and become Bidencare. The public option is an option that says that if you in fact do not have the wherewithal, if you qualify for Medicaid and you do not have the wherewithal in your state to get Medicaid, you automatically are enrolled, providing competition for insurance companies. That's what's going to happen. Secondly, we're going to make sure we reduce the premiums and reduce drug prices by making sure that there's competition, that doesn't exist now, by allowing Medicare to negotiate drug prices with the insurance companies. Thirdly, the idea that I want to eliminate private insurance, the reason why I had such a fight with 20 candidates for the nomination was I support private insurance.
- [C] (BIDEN) I say it's ridiculous. It's like saying that the fact that there's a public option that people can choose, that makes it a socialist plan. Look, the difference between the president and I think healthcare is not a privilege, it's a right. Everyone should have the right to have affordable healthcare, and I am very proud of my plan. It's gotten endorsed by all the major labor unions, as well as a whole range of other people who, in fact, are concerned in the medical field. This is something that's going to save people's lives. And this is going to give some people an opportunity to have healthcare for their children. How many of you at home are worried and rolling around in bed tonight, wondering what in God's name you're going to do if you get sick, because you've lost your health insurance and your company's gone under? We have to provide health insurance for people at an affordable rate, and that's what I do
- [D] (BIDEN) My response is, people deserve to have affordable healthcare, period. Period, period, period. And the Biden care proposal will in fact provide for that affordable healthcare, lower premiums. What we're going to do is going to cost some money. It's going to cost over $750 billion over 10 years to do it. And they're going to have lower premiums. You can buy into the better plans, the cheaper plans, lower your premiums, deal with unexpected billing, and have your drug prices drop significantly. He keeps talking about it. He hasn't done a thing for anybody on healthcare. Not a thing

Rise as Biden presses Trump on minimizing COVID (A/C). Lines tank as Trump says, “not my fault” (B), rise on “capacity to open safely” (D), steep drop on shutdowns killing (E)

- [A] (BIDEN) People are learning to die with it. You folks home will have an empty chair at the kitchen table this morning. That man or wife going to bed tonight and reaching over to try to touch, there out of habit, where their wife or husband was, is gone. Learning to live with it. Come on. We're dying with it, because he's never said. See, you said, "It's dangerous." When's the last time? Is it really dangerous still? Are we dangerous. You tell the people it's dangerous now. What should they do about the danger? And you say, "I take no responsibility."
- [B] (TRUMP) It's not my fault that it came here. It's China's fault. And you know what? It's not Joe's fault that it came here either. It's China's fault[C] Trump minimized, not in control
- [C] (BIDEN) The fact is that when we knew it was coming, when it hit, what happened? What did the President say? He said, "Don't worry. It's going to go away. It'll be gone by Easter. Don't worry. Warm weather. Don't worry. Maybe inject bleach." He said he was kidding when he said that, but a lot of people thought it was serious. A whole range of things the President has said, even today, he thinks we are in control. We're about to lose 200,000 more people.
- [D] (BIDEN) But when you do open, give the people the capacity to be able to open and have the capacity to do it safely. For example, schools. Schools, they need a lot of money to be open. They need to deal with ventilation systems. They need to deal with smaller classes, more teachers, more pods, and he's refused to support that money, or at least up to now
- [E] (TRUMP) Look, all he does is talk about shut downs. But forget about him. His Democrat Governors, Cuomo in New York, you look at what's going on in California, you look at Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Democrats, Democrats all, they're shut down so tight and they're dying. They're dying. And he supports all these people. All he talks about is shut downs.
