

Battling to a Democratic win in 2022 Results of new national poll

July 8-16, 2022

CAMPAIGNS CORPORATIONS ADVOCACY WORLDWIDE

The national web survey described

METHODOLOGY

Democracy Corps conducted a national web survey among 2,500 registered voters from July 8-16, 2022. The data include a base sample of 1,000 registered voters, with large oversamples of 500 Black voters, 500 Hispanic voters, and 500 AAPI voters. The oversample data are statistically weighted to ensure the sample's regional, age, and gender composition reflects that of the estimated registered voters in the United States.

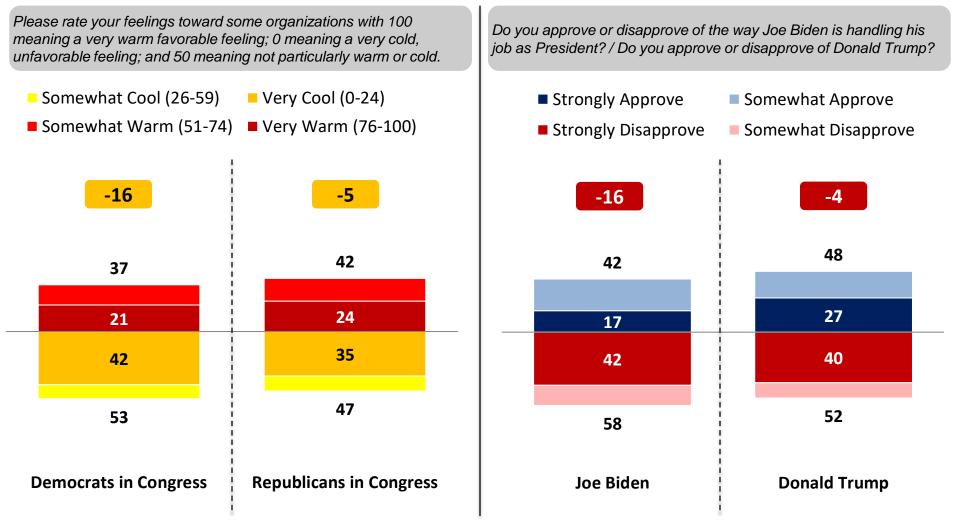

The total data set of 2,500 registered voters (1,000 base sample plus 1,500 oversample of voters of color) were weighted down to an effective sample size of 1,000, nationally representative of registered voters. Additionally, the data were weighted to an average of recent phone polls (or moving norm) on core cultural thermometers, and the 2020 vote was weighted to the moving norm among white working-class men and women, Black, Hispanic, and AAPI voters.

The total sample of 2,500 Registered Voters (1,000 Weighted) includes:

- 711 Registered Voters in Battleground States/CDs (341 Weighted)
- > 708 White Voters (720 Weighted)
- 634 Black/African-American Voters (120 Weighted)
- 613 Hispanic/Latino Voters (100 Weighted)
- > 530 Asian-American/Pacific Islander Voters (59 Weighted)

This is a survey where Democrats are in trouble, as Democrats in Congress viewed more negatively than Republicans, and Biden approval worse than Trump's

Key findings

- Democrats face daunting internal problems & headwinds getting to a winning margin in 2022, yet this angry and Republican-leaning electorate gives them a 2-point margin in the vote.
- They've taken a small lead because of every type of women Black, Hispanic, white, working class, and 4-year college graduates were angry with overturning Roe, and that has translated into white college women and Republican defectors getting back to their earlier strong Democratic vote.
- The gun massacres, Supreme Court decisions, and repeal of Roe have together produced highly consolidated Democratic and Republican parties. Democrats are getting more than respectable votes with Blacks and Hispanics, though less so with Asian Americans (AAPI) and Gen Z voters. But the Democrats' diverse base is still dissatisfied and not engaged.
- The Republican attacks on Democrats, on Biden on inflation, and on crime and the border are very tough, eroding the Democratic vote. But the split sample contesting the cost of living holds the vote. Democrats gain 2 points in the sample dealing with guns. And making abortion illegal hurts further.
- To succeed, Democrats have to contest the most critical issue the cost of living. That means right up front not focusing on good paying jobs. This survey shows Democrats can contest and win on the cost of living, even though Democrats trail by 14 points on the issue. That requires saying, you've had no real pay increase in decades. That will require battling big corporations with no competition increasing their prices, profits, and enriching CEOs and using their power to pay no tax. Democrats fight back on price gouging, taxing billionaires, and stopping secret money. (Thank you, Bob Reich.)

- Democrats bring to this battle the public wanting to tax billionaires. Democrats are also more trusted on health care costs. And voters value what they've done to address guns, push for higher wages and unions, price rigging, and the raised tax relief to poor, working, and middle class families (CTC).
- When Democrats are heard on wages & fighting big corporations with policies to mitigate high prices, Democrats make stunning gains on party brand – seen in major gains in which party better on getting things done, standing up to elites, and prioritizing your community, as well as making America less polarized and addressing the cost of living.
- Their policies, their attacks, and messages win strong support with the base of Blacks, Hispanics, AAPI voters, millennials and unmarried women, and surprising support with under 50 white working class voters and disabled family members.
- Republicans face deep vulnerability on addressing school massacres and assault rifles, not addressing high prescription drug costs, wanting to make abortion illegal nationally, the richest not paying taxes, and repealing the child tax credit and raising taxes on working people.
- To succeed, Democrats have to manage the crime issue. It hangs over this election. It is a very top issue for Blacks, Hispanics, AAPI voters, and unmarried women. The biggest worry about Democratic control is seeing the growth of crime, homelessness, and attacks on police. A big proportion of our diverse base choose the Trump's America first message over our best message, yet we hold their vote in the end. Not engaging does better in this poll, but our crime message sounded too focused on gun violence, rather than funding, not defunding the police.

Key findings – continued 2

- Taking on the massacre and guns is the area where Democrats gain the most. It has become so vivid that Republicans will not do the basic things that will make a difference. The specifics matter, but one of the deepest worries is that a Republican Congress will refuse to raise the age to 21 for buying an assault weapon.
- The split sample hearing this message and pushback thinks better of the Democrats on handling guns of course, but also doing what they say, addressing economic inequality, standing up to elites, and prioritizing your community.
- And right with this worry is the fear that Republicans will use their control of the Senate and House to make abortion illegal nationally.
- The survey sets up a Democratic message contrast that scores powerfully with both liberal and moderate Democrats, but also 15 percent of Trump loyalists and Cheney conservatives and a 1/3rd of moderate Republicans.
- Almost 30 percent of Blacks and 45 percent of Hispanics and AAPI voters supported the America First message on crime and borders over the strongest Democratic message, but it did not translate into vote erosion. It may impact their deciding to vote.
- Here are the powerful messages.

The Democratic messages

(CORPORATE MONOPOLIES) Corporate profits are at a 70-year high, yet corporations are raising their prices. They are not raising their prices because of the increasing costs. They're using the cover of inflation to increase their profits. They're doing so because they face little competition. Most American workers haven't seen a real wage increase in 40 years. Income and wealth are being distributed up to CEOs and shareholders, while working people are living paycheck to paycheck. And they are now paying a lower tax rate than working people. Republican leaders in the Congress won't stop price gouging and let working people pay higher taxes. Democrats say enough. They are raising taxes on big corporations and billionaires. And they are fighting against unlimited secret campaign funds.

(GUN VIOLENCE) Republicans say our thoughts and prayers after massacres of children in schools, year after year, and will do nothing that puts them at odds with the NRA and gun industry lobbyists. 20 babies at Sandy Hook and 19 children at Robb Elementary. Now, the Supreme Court is stopping states and cities from regulating handguns. Democrats say enough. The House Democrats passed laws, including safe storage, red flag laws, requiring background checks for ghost guns, and raised the age to purchase assault weapons from 18 to 21, but Republicans would not consider comprehensive background checks or raising the age. With control of Congress and a 52seat majority in the Senate, we will ban assault weapons, high-capacity magazines, and begin comprehensive background checks. It will allow cities and states to fully regulate guns.

(DEMOCRATIC MESSAGE) Democrats say people are living paycheck to paycheck and working people haven't seen a real pay increase in years. Those in Washington don't get it. The big corporations, billionaires, oil companies, big tech monopolies and their lobbyists are calling the shots. Democrats gave tax relief to the poor, working families, and the middle class, reduced health care premiums on exchanges, and are negotiating lower prescription drug costs. With inflation killing people, they are going after the monopolies and price gouging. Republicans get their money from big oil and the drug companies, and they oppose tax relief for working people and raising taxes on big corporations. Democrats are working for safe communities where workers get a break, and we grow the middle class again.

Contesting crime

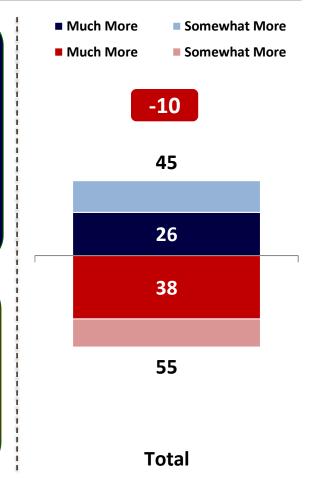

Current Democratic crime message, even with defund, is defeated by 10 points and with intensity

Now you will see some things that leaders of the Democrats and Republicans are saying about the country. Which one do you find yourself agreeing with more?

(POLICE/CRIME) Democrats say we are fighting crime. Preventing crime and protecting our communities is an obligation we hold dear. Democrats have declared gun violence as a public health crisis and allocated $3.9 billion for state and local law enforcement to make our cities safer. More criminals must be prosecuted. Ban assault weapons. And we need more police. It is a tough job, and they should be respected. We should fund, not defund the police. At the same time, our plan includes urgent reforms, including better training and accountability to prevent excessive use of force and racial profiling that singles out Blacks or Latinos. Fighting crime, gun violence, and for safe communities is our top priority.

(CRIME/DEFUND) Republicans say Joe Biden and Democrats' soft-on-crime policies have destroyed American cities, emboldened criminals, and put Americans in harm's way. Democrats' attacks on the 2nd Amendment will not combat the crime wave they created. Violent crime has spiked across the country, with fourteen major Democrat-run cities setting all-time high homicide records. Since coming into office, Biden has not stood with law enforcement, but rather surrounded himself with radical defund the police supporters.

2022 Message Battle

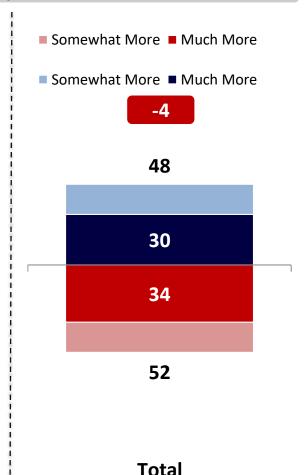

Democratic message centered on workers and corporate excess gets 48, but doesn't defeat a Trump message, but not because it fails to win new voters

Which one of the following statements comes closer to your point of view, even if neither is exactly right?

(DEMOCRATIC MESSAGE) Democrats say people are living paycheck to paycheck and working people haven't seen a real pay increase in years. Those in Washington don't get it. The big corporations, billionaires, oil companies, big tech monopolies and their lobbyists are calling the shots. Democrats gave tax relief to the poor, working families, and the middle class, reduced health care premiums on exchanges, and are negotiating lower prescription drug costs. With inflation killing people, they are going after the monopolies and price gouging. Republicans get their money from big oil and the drug companies, and they oppose tax relief for working people and raising taxes on big corporations. Democrats are working for safe communities where workers get a break, and we grow the middle class again.

(TRUMP'S WORLD) Republicans say, America has never been more at risk for those who made America Great. Crime in our country is escalating. People are pouring through our borders totally unchecked. We must act to save America and define the future of our beloved country. We take pride in our country, we teach the truth about our history, not canceling our history. We believe in the men and women of law enforcement. We trust people and families to make their own choices and they have the right to be able to make their voices heard.

Working class - corporate excess message fails to defeat Trump message because about 45% of Hispanics & Asian Americans & 28% of Blacks support it
