Q.82 (SPLIT A) Now I'm going to read you a pair of statements that describe what Barack Obama and John McCain have been saying. After I read these statements, please tell me which one you agree with more.

Barack Obama says, "John McCain's attacks on my character are false and reek of desperation; even Republicans are calling his smears silly and ridiculous. McCain's own campaign admitted that they are trying to change the subject because they don't want to discuss the economy. But with American families suffering, we need a president who will focus on changing the economy, not changing the subject and trying to deny the voters an honest debate about which candidate can get the country back on track."

OR

John McCain says, "Barack Obama sees America as so imperfect that he's willing to pal around with terrorists who target their own country. One of Obama's earliest supporters was Bill Ayers, a domestic terrorist who launched a campaign of bombings that targeted the U.S. Capitol. And Obama continued to work with Ayres in Chicago even after he said he had no regrets for his terrorist past. We can't afford a president whose judgment is so poor that he continues to associate with those that want to do us harm."

Q.83 (SPLIT B) Now I'm going to read you a pair of statements that describe what Barack Obama and John McCain have been saying. After I read these statements, please tell me which one you agree with more.

Barack Obama says, "John McCain's proposal to tax your employer-based health care benefits for the first time ever will cause millions of Americans to pay higher premiums or even lose the coverage they now have. And he wants to deregulate the industry so the insurance companies have more power to deny coverage for preexisting conditions. Under my plan, if you like the coverage you have you can keep it, but I'll bring premiums down and make sure you can't be denied coverage for preexisting conditions."

OR

John McCain says, "Barack Obama thinks that government-run health care with mandates is the way to fix our health care system. If you are a small business owner struggling to insure your employees or a parent struggling to insure your children Obama's plan will fine you. I want to give every American a five thousand dollar tax credit to make it easier for them to afford insurance, and let them shop across state lines for the best deal, not enforce mandates by fining those who already can't afford health care."
